

NEWS IN BRIEF

Party time

The Winter Palace is an amazing new magical place that will be making its way to Bath next month for three weeks only where people be able to experience a night out with a difference. Bubble Christmas parties have a great line up of entertainment from a live band to a fun casino, and even a unique oxygen bar. A four-course meal is included in the package. For further information visit: www.bubblechristmasparties.co.uk

Farewell pigs, welcome lions

As a result of the popularity of King Bladud's pigs that were delightfully dotted around the city last year, a new giant pride of 100 majestic life size lion sculptures will be taking up residence on the streets of Bath from May to September 2010. The 'Big 100' public art event will be sponsored by local businesses, individuals and communities and decorated by a huge team of talented artists and craftspeople. To date, there are over 25 committed sponsors and 50 artists. For further information visit: www.lionsofbath.com

Christmas Market

This year's ever-popular Christmas Market will run from 26 November – 6 December in the city centre around the Abbey Church Yard. The perfect opportunity for some festive Christmas shopping.